

FRIDAY, MARCH 21.

The Legislature died Tuesday night. No crane is hung on; no flags are at half-mast.

A young man from this county visited the legislature, while in session, and noting the very extravagant attention paid the young members of that body by the Frankfort ladies, is almost a candidate for Representative.

Mr. C. H. Rhodes, the Cape Colony diamond king, is dangerously sick at Cape Town, and has at best but a few days to live. It was for the protection of Mr. Rhodes' rich holdings of diamond mines in the Transvaal that the British made war on the Boers.

The Louisville Commercial of Friday has the following to say of our Representative:

One of the most important bills passed by the house in Mr. Bennett's two weeks' pay bill that was passed today. The bill requires that mining companies shall pay employees every two weeks instead of once a month, as is now the custom. Mr. Bennett is a Republican member from Ohio county, and deserves great credit for his service in the house. The bill is yet to be considered by the senate.

This late legislature deserves most credit for failing to do some things it essayed to do. It accomplished less vicious legislation than its immediate predecessors, but this is because it did less legislating. But the Miners Two Week's Pay Bill and the "blind tiger" bill may, in fairness, be placed to the credit of that body.

Or, how feeling is the fame of mortal man, we were reminded a few days ago by reading in a great daily newspaper, a sermon by Dr. Talmage. Ten years ago no metropolitan newspaper was considered complete that did not contain, from time to time, Dr. Talmage's Sunday sermon, but now this great divine is almost forgotten by the populace.

The local Democratic organ here gravely informs us that if the Commonwealth's Attorney gets beat down, and is not able to be in the court house for a week at a time, while Circuit Court is in session, that the item is not news. May he it isn't. We are fresh in journalism, and perhaps we don't know news when we see it wallowing in the mud; but we thought that, perchance, the people who elected the Commonwealth's Attorney might be interested in knowing whether or not he was at his post, and if not, the reason why. Some folks are curious, you know.

Upon the sworn testimony of an eye-witness that Frank Cecil played a game of cards in the Secretary of State's office about the last of January, 1900, a Franklin county grand jury has returned an indictment against him for killing Senator Goebel. Of course Cecil is guilty. Any Republican who may have played cards in the Secretary of State's office within sixty days after Goebel was killed, must necessarily have fired the fatal shot. Cecil should plead guilty and ask the acting Governor to fix an early date for the execution.

HON. A. S. BENNETT was the only Republican member of the late Legislature to secure the passage through both houses of a bill. Mr. Bennett's bill known as House Bill No. 135 compelling mine operators to pay their employees every two weeks, passed the Senate Monday. The passage of this bill has been denounced by the miners of the State for many years, and the miners will hail Mr. Bennett as their benefactor. In this act alone, he demonstrates his fitness for a popular Representative. We put in nomination the name of Hon. A. S. Bennett for Representative in 1903.

The Hartford Herald, smarting under the sting of well deserved censure for failing to report the incapacity of its Commonwealth's Attorney to perform the duties of his office, seeks to retaliate by referring to a personal act of the editor of this paper, in becoming surety on the bond of a young man charged with crime. We might reply in kind, but out of respect for our readers, ourselves, and the profession, we must decline to prostitute our columns to this purpose. If we shall have, at any time, an unpardonable grievance against the editor of the Herald, we shall light it out with him on the street, but under no circumstances will we bore our readers with a petty personal controversy with him.

SULPHUR SPRINGS, KY.
March 18.—Mr. J. B. Mitchell, who has been ill for some time is improving and will soon be out.

Mr. Geo. W. Allen, a former resident of this community, who is now living in Indiana, made us a visit, and while here—concluding that it is not best for man to live alone—was married to Miss Addie Nash, of Sulphur Springs, on the evening of the 14th, Rev. T. I. Acton officiating. They returned to Indiana where they will make their home. Our best wishes go with them.

It is reported that our hustling stock-huyer, Mr. F. T. Wilson, has bought the Rosine mill. If any one can make it pay he will.

Farmers are disheartened over the prospect for wheat. Two bushels per acre seems to be the average guess on the crop.

We note with pleasure the record of our Representative and believe he is doing the best in his power despite machinations oppose to the law and liberty loving element of Kentucky. If he will just pick that capitol up and move it to Louisville, he will deserve and secure praise from Kentuckians.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offered one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials. Address: F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c.

ROSINE, KY.
March 18.—Farmers are busy burning and sowing plant beds. On account of the wet weather the farmers have not sown any oats yet. The wheat crop looks very alim in this county.

Elder H. D. Burch filled his regular appointment at Cane Run last Saturday and Sunday.

Rev. Cort B. Coleman will preach at Cane Run Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night.

Mr. John Camp will have his house completed in a few days and will move into same.

Mrs. Amanda Camp is very low with the mumps.

Mr. Anderson Johnson, who has been very low with consumption, is thought to be improving.

Mr. Sam M. Wilson, who has been sick for several days of a gripe, is better.

La Grippe Quickly Cured.
"In the winter of 1898 and 1899 I was taken down with a severe attack of what is called La Grippe," says F. L. Hewett, a prominent druggist of Winfield, Ill. "The only medicine I used was two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It broke up the cold and stopped the coughing like magic, and I have never since been troubled with Grippe." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy can always be depended upon to break up a severe cold and ward off any threatened attack pneumonia. It is pleasant to take, too, which makes it the most desirable and one of the most popular preparations in use for these ailments. For sale by all druggists.

Who's Who?
Several years ago Salem Bennett, a widower, of Weston, Va., married Miss Abbie Smith, the daughter of a widow. Last week Bennett's son, Markwood Bennett, married the widow who is the mother of his father's wife. By the marriage Markwood Bennett becomes his own father's father-in-law, and his own grandfather-in-law. Mrs. Markwood Bennett becomes the daughter-in-law of her own daughter, which is to say, she is her own granddaughter. Markwood's wife is Salem's daughter-in-law as well as his own mother-in-law, while Salem is both the father and son-in-law to his own mother, and is her own grandmother. If she has any children she will be both mother and grandmother to them, and they will be their brother Markwood's grand children. Markwood is not only his own grandfather, but is the grand father of his brother and sister, and if children are born to him he will be their great-grandfather as well as their father. Should children be born to both Salem and Markwood Bennett, the parents will probably take a week off to figure out the relationship between the babies.

Both Couldn't Marry Her.

Glasgow, Mar. 16.—The officers here were notified to arrest Dick Nichols, who was wanted at Beaver Dam, Ohio county. Nichols and M. H. Stephens were both suitors for Miss Ora Peda's hand. Stephens won, and last night Nichols tried to break into Stephens's house. Today they met, and a shooting scrape following and Nichols fled. This is Nichols' second trip from here to Beaver Dam to kill Stephens.

Rev. Pate Appointed.

Representative F. B. Brown wrote to a friend and prominent citizen that he could secure the position of chaplain of the Eddyville penitentiary for Rev. E. E. Pate, the Methodist circuit rider living here, if that reverend gentleman desired the place. Mr. Pate was consulted and agreed to accept. Representative Brown was notified yesterday by wire and we presume Rev. Pate will get the appointment. The place pays a salary of $1,200 a year.—Morgantown Sun.

How to Cure the Grip.

Remain quietly at home and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as directed and a quick recovery is sure to follow. That remedy counteracts any tendency of the grip to result in pneumonia, which is really the only serious danger. Among the tens of thousands who have used it for the grip, not one case has ever been reported that did not recover. For sale by all druggists.

RENDER, KY.

Mar. 18.—Mr. J. D. Reid, of Render, went to Beaver last Sunday to visit his brothers, John and Charles Reid.

Mr. J. L. Rowe, of this place went to Rockport last week on business. Mr. Wilson Russell was in Rockport last week on business.

Mrs. Jas. L. Rowe and little daughter, Virginia, who have been visiting relatives in Leitchfield for the past two weeks, returned home Sunday.

Mr. L. F. Rowe visited friends in the Rockport last Sunday.

Mr. Louis Magan was in Beaver Dam Sunday.

There was a wedding here last week. The coal operators and miners delegates for the U. M. W. of A., who have been in convention for several days at Owensboro, have adjourned to meet at Central City the 24th. It is thought by all that the coal miners of District No. 23, Western Kentucky, will receive an advance of wages, the Indianapolis scale, or stand a long strike.

SELECT, KY.

Mar. 17.—Master Cecil Stewart, son of Mr. A. H. Stewart, of this place, died the 13th inst., and was buried the 14th.

Mr. Grant Young has gone to Nashville, Tenn., where he expects to make his future home.

Mrs. J. A. King has gone to Grayson county to visit her mother, Mrs. Press Bratcher.

Mr. Will Bradley and wife, Butler county, visited friends and relatives here Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Jo Jarragin and wife will move to this father's, who lives in McLean county.

Mr. Elden Balz will move into our midst in a few days.

Pneumonia can be Prevented.
This disease always results from a cold or an attack of the grip and may be prevented by the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This remedy was extensively used during the epidemics of la grippe of the past few years, and not a single case has ever been reported that did not recover or that resulted in pneumonia, which shows it to be a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. For sale by all druggists.

Divorce Case Makes Record.
New York, Mar. 18.—Mary Isabella Zane was married to William Northrop Cowles at the residence of the bride's uncle, Dr. Edward L. Keyes, East Seventy-fourth St., on the afternoon of Thursday, Dec. 12, 1901. On Jan. 6, 1902, just twenty-eight days after the wedding, Mrs. Cowles' suit for divorce from her husband was released by Justice Blanchard to

The divorce was granted on statutory grounds, and the papers were sealed by order of the court. It was said today that, for the length of time elapsing between the marriage and divorce the case establishes a record in the courts here.

Ancient Heirloom.

FORDSVILLE, Mar. 17. Editor REPUBLICAN, Hartford, Ky.:—Dear Sir: I see in your Beta letter of the 17th ult., an account of an iron spoon, brought to America in the year 1725, which is indeed a great relic of the early settlers of the Western Continent. Were it not by a request of your Beta correspondent, I should not have written upon an old relic I inherited, as I have no desire to outdo "Zida," but to tell the citizens of Ohio county something about the old relic in the county which our ancestors have left us.

I now have in good preservation a horn spoon—table size—which, if we believe tradition, can be traced back 313 years and then it was an old relic in Scotland. It is one of the first things I recollect of playing with at my home in Fulton county, N. Y., about the winter of 1843 or 1844 and there are now the impressions on its handle of our little infant teeth, and other little children that played with it before me. I have often heard my parents tell the following account of its history and age:

My grandfather Forbes was an officer in the war of 1812 and during the time he was in the army—as his wife was dead—he left my father in the care of a Scotch friend by the name of Alexander Morehead, my father at that time being a small child. Mr. Morehead, who had no children, made the child a present of this spoon and afterwards told him it was a present to him by a gentleman in Scotland when he was a small child, and he afterwards learned that it was then an old relic.

In the year 1884 my mother, whose home was in Cincinnati, visited me her last time, and while at my home she told me that at that time the spoon was known to be 295 years old, which was no doubt so, if reliable tradition can be believed. In dividing the family relics the "old horn spoon" fell to me—also eight sea shells brought from the whaling sea islands by my grandfather, Capt. Wm. Perry of the Nantucket Whaleship, John Adams, about 125 years ago, which, with the old spoon, can now be seen at my home near Fordsville. Resp'y, EDWIN FORBES.

Arrested for Murder.

James Ewing, of McLean county, was arrested Tuesday for the murder of Derrell Owen, and if he is not guilty it is pretty certain that he knows all about it. He is in jail at Calhoun.

Ewing was arrested by Alex Jones, who runs a store boat on Green river. Ewing had been loafing around his boat for some time. He had money, which he had not worked for, as he was not known to have worked for some time, and then he told Jones he was going to take him to Calhoun. Ewing said he would go and did so.

Owen was killed several weeks ago on a shanty-boat just across Rough river from Livermore. The murder occurred in the night and the body was not found until 9 o'clock the next day. Owen had been shot and his head had been crushed with a club. The deed of the deed was robbery, as the dead man's pockets had been rifled and the things on the boat had been overturned in the search for money. It is believed that there were three men engaged in the crime.

Ewing was brought out this afternoon before Judge Stevens for his examining trial. He waived examination and was sent back to jail without bond to await the action of the grand jury. When Ewing was put in jail last night he attempted to play crazy, but he was all right today. The authorities are confident they have one of Owen's murderers, if there were more than one, and if there was but one, they think they have the right man.—Owensboro Lequirer.

Belong to that class of inflammatory and disfiguring skin eruptions that cause more genuine bodily discomfort and worry than all other known diseases. The impurities or sediments which collect in the system because of poor digestion, inactive kidneys and other organs of elimination are taken up by the blood, saturating the system with acid poisons and fluids that ooze out through the glands and pores of the skin, producing an insupportable itching and burning, and a scaly, watery discharge forms into crusts and sores or little brown and white scales that drop off, leaving the skin tender and raw. The effect of the poison may cause the skin to crack and bleed, or give it a scaly, fishy appearance; again the eruptions may consist of innumerable blackheads and pimples or hard, red bumps upon the face. Purification of the blood is the only remedy for these various skin diseases. Washes and powders can only hide for a time the glaring blemishes. S. S. S. eradicates all poisonous accumulations, antidotes the Uric and other acids, and restores the blood to its wonted purity, and stimulates and revitalizes the sluggish organs, and the impurities pass off through the natural channels and relieve the skin. S. S. S. is the only guaranteed purely vegetable blood purifier. It contains no Arsenic, Potash or other harmful mineral. Write us about your case and our physicians will advise without charge. We have a handsomely illustrated book on skin diseases, which will be sent free to all who wish it. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

Coughed up a Tooth.

Columbus, Ohio, Mar. 18.—R. C. Davis, aged 69, who lives in Hayden avenue, this city, has just performed the astonishing and hitherto unprecedented feat of recovering his long lost voice by the simple process of coughing up a tooth.

About eighteen years ago he began to have trouble with his throat, which continued uninterruptedly until last Sunday morning.

Until he first experienced this trouble eighteen years ago he was an accomplished bass singer and attained considerable reputation in Indianapolis, where he was previously lived, as a basso in church choirs. Suddenly he discovered that there was something the matter with his throat, which put an end to his singing. Since then he has been treated for asthma, catarrh and all manner of throat trouble without obtaining any relief. For eighteen years he has almost constantly suffered from wheezing and coughing. Sunday morning relief came in this unexpected manner.

The theory is that the piece of tooth, which was his own, slipped down his throat eighteen years ago and lodged in the esophagus, just below the larynx. It formed a pocket in that position and remained there without materially affecting his ability to swallow food, but produced great irritation to the laryngeal nerves.

A precocious young Ohio county man, who has seen much of the world, and had a varied experience—including a divorce—for one so young, was paying court, recently, to a wealthy young lady of an Eastern city when an untimely postal card played havoc with his plans. The young man had occasion to be absent from the aforesaid Eastern city for a few days and very naturally asked his sweetheart to receive and care for his mail during his absence. In the meantime the precocious one had been granted a decree of divorce by the Ohio Circuit Court, and his attorney incautiously notified him of the fact by postal card which the wealthy young lady in a cold and informal way presented to him upon his return. Notices of divorce like duns should be legislated off of postal cards.

Nothing Tastes Good

And eating is simply perfunctory—done because it must be.

This is the common complaint of the dyspeptic.

If eating sparingly would cure dyspepsia, few would suffer from it long.

The only way to cure dyspepsia, which is difficult digestion, is to give vigor and tone to the stomach and the whole digestive system.

Hood's Sarsaparilla cured the niece of Frank Fay, 100 N. St., South Boston, Mass., who writes that she had been a great sufferer from dyspepsia for six years; had been without appetite and had been troubled with sour stomach and headache. She had tried many other medicines in vain. Two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla made her well.

JAKE INDICTED.

Grand Jury Calls Commonwealth Attorney to Account for Drunkenness While on Duty.

The recent grand jury demonstrated its fitness to serve the purpose for which the law contemplates its existence by work exemplifying the highest moral courage and the wisest discretion. The criminal neglect of duty upon the part of the Commonwealth's Attorney for some years past, has been a notorious fact, yet not until the recent term of court have we had a grand jury in the Ohio Circuit Court with courage enough to find an indictment against him.

At the recent term of court here, Cap Davis was on trial charged with the murder of Joseph Miller, near Sulphur Springs, last spring, and it is out of the conduct of Mr. Rowe during this trial that the indictment came about. The grand jury summoned each of the twelve petit jurors, who sat on the murder trial, to testify before it, also a couple of attorneys of the Hartford bar, but by a vote of seven to five failed to indict. However, a couple of days later it took up the case again and returned the indictment.

Nothing may come of the indictment, but it serves to express popular sentiment in a very grave matter and attests the courage and good sense of the honest farmers who made up the grand jury.

A Novel Case.

About the first of the present year, M. H. Stevens, of Centertown, married a Miss Pedan, of near Glasgow, since which time Mr. Stevens and wife have been living with his father. Sometime ago, T. D. Nichols, a former lover of Miss Pedan, came upon the scene and as the report goes gave the newly wedded pair much annoyance by appearing at the windows of the Stevens' residence of nights. Friday night, it is said, Nichols went to Stevens' residence and tried to break in through a window, when the elder Stevens fired on him with a double-barrel shotgun, and Nichols returned the fire.

Nichols was arrested by the Marshal at Central City Monday and the Sheriff of this county notified. Deputy Sheriff Jno. G. Keown brought Nichols over here Tuesday and lodged him in jail.

We called on Nichols in the jail yesterday and he gave us the following statement of the incident:

My name is T. D. Nichols. I am 26 years old, and my home is Oleok, Barren county, six miles southeast of Glasgow on the Birkville road. Miss Ora Belle Pedan and I had been engaged nearly four years. M. H. Stevens and Miss Pedan married and left Oleok together on Tuesday before she and I were to have been married on the Thursday following. It was said up there that Stevens had used unmanly inducements to get the girl to marry him, and believing he would desert her, I decided, as I was going to Evansville anyway, that I would stop over and see about her, and if she had been deserted by her husband, as I found she had, I would send her back home.

I went to M. H. Stevens' father's Wednesday night just after dark, and looked through the windows to see if M. H. Stevens and his wife were there, and not seeing them went away. Afterwards I decided to go back again and did so on Friday night. When in about thirty yards of the house, I found Taylor Stevens, M. H. Stevens' father, sitting in the shadow of a tree with a double barrel shotgun. He told me to walk up to the road, which I did rather briskly, and struck the road a running. When near the big road Stevens shot and I flew. I had no bad motive in going to Mr. Stevens' house, but only wanted to see if Ora Belle was there, and if she was deserted, to send her back home.
